ABSTRACT

Dewi Fatmawati, 2020, 201610360311006, University of Muhammadiyah Malang, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Department of International Relations, Initiation of Australian Government to Address Irregular Migration in Asia Pacific Through the Forum of Bali Process, Advisor I: : M. Syaprin Zahidi, MA., Advisor II: Dr. Tutik Sulistyowati, M.Si.

This research examines the policy of the Australian government in initiating the Bali Process forum to address irregular migration in the Asia Pacific region. The approach used in this research is the Neoclassical Realism Foreign Policy Theory, which explains that Australia's policy of initiating the Bali Process forum under the government of Prime Minister John Howard is influenced by several factors. This type of research is explanatory, with data through literature study. The results of this study indicate that the Australian government's policy in initiating the Bali Process forum is influenced by domestic political factors and John Howard's leadership, thus supporting his foreign policy to safeguard Australia's security from the threat of terrorism and other transnational crimes.

Keywords: Australia, Bali Process, Irregular Migration, John Howard.
